

A DISASTER

In a Tunnel on the Louisville and Nashville Road.

The False Frame Work Falls Upon Unfortunate Workmen.

Twenty-Five Injured, Many Very Seriously—Fighting For Life in the Darkness of the Earth's Depths—Surgical and Wreckers Go to the Scene.

HOO RUN TUNNEL, Ky., Oct. 6.—Far into the recesses of the tunnel on the line of the Louisville and Nashville railroad at this point there occurred Wednesday night one of the most sickening accidents that has yet been chronicled in the history of the road.

As the result of the catastrophe the tunnel is blocked with fallen debris, amid which a wrecking crew is digging for the dead and dying who were imprisoned when it fell. Pent up in the narrow passage-way beneath the hill the rescuers are working under difficulties, but with gratifying success.

Special trains from Louisville and Worthville brought physicians and surgeons, summoned to assist in caring for the wounded in the accident, and the neighboring farm houses were for the time converted into temporary hospitals.

So far the number of victims is estimated at twenty-five, though there may be more than that figure. Of these cases three are fatal. Many of the victims are terribly cut and bruised, and the morning may see more dead men in the rooms of the sufferers.

The cause of the accident was the falling of the false work in the tunnel, which is being refitted. The contract for this work was assumed by H. H. Squire & Co., and about 150 men are employed in the task. At 5:30 p. m. the men were engaged in setting up the timber frame work known as "centers" in order to permit the north-bound train, No. 6, to pass through in safety.

Just as this work was about to be completed, the framework suddenly gave way, carrying with it the men who were working among the timbers and falling upon those who were below. The timbers composing the framework are of the heaviest kind, and every man that was struck was more or less seriously injured.

In an instant the tunnel became dark the lights being extinguished by the falling of the frame work. In the darkness the wounded men struggled to get free from the timbers that pinned them, the air being filled with the shrieks of the wounded and the groans of the dying. Those who escaped the wreck at once proceeded to the outer air to procure relief, and above all to flag the approaching train, which was due within a few minutes after the occurrence of the accident.

Under the direction of Mr. Squire, the contractor, who was present at the time of the accident, but who escaped injury, the uninjured laborers at once began the work of rescue. Others telegraphed to Worthville, the nearest station, for surgical help. The appeal was responded to, Dr. Golden coming to the rescue. A special train was made up of a coach and an engine, under the direction of Conductor McDonald and Engineer Monahan, and he was fairly whisked, like a feather in a wind-storm, to the scene. Dr. Ferrell, who resides near the scene of the accident, was also pressed into service, and the two medical men worked like Trojans among the wounded, attended by amateur assistants.

A telegram was sent to Louisville asking for help, and Dr. Roberts, the general surgeon, with a number of professional nurses and assistants, at once left on a special train, loaded with the necessities for such work. Wrecking crews have been ordered from the various stations along the line to assist in the work of clearing out the debris in the tunnel in order that any dead bodies may be removed and the line made clear for travel.

The contractors are at a loss to account for the accident. The general giving way of the timbers having amazed them. It is the belief of those on the ground that a high car in the freight train, No. 73, which passed through the tunnel shortly before the accident, struck a projecting beam and thus loosened the structure. When the sudden rush of men upon it came, it gave way, thus causing the accident. Most of the victims are seriously injured, many of them having to undergo surgical operations for the amputation of their wounded limbs.

Georgia Goes Democratic.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 6.—The democrats are in high feather over the result of the election. By returns up to midnight, which are pretty full, the estimate of 50,000 majority claimed is borne out. From every direction comes reports of Negroes voting in masses, and in some localities solidly, for the democratic ticket, owing to the popularity of Gov. Nathan among the colored people.

Quiet Wedding.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Miss Jessica Newberry, daughter of Gen. Walter C. Newberry, of Chicago, was wedded to Robt. H. McCrory, son of Ex-Gov. McCrory, of Kentucky. The ceremony, which took place at Gen. Newberry's home, was a quiet one, owing to the recent death of the bride's mother.

The Naval Parade.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The sub-committee on naval parade of the Columbian celebration committee has received word that from 250 to 300 steamers, tugs, steam yachts, etc., will take part in the naval parade.

For the America Cup.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—It is generally understood in yachting circles here that Lord Dunraven has sent a conditional preliminary challenge to the New York Yacht club for the America cup.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.—The first snow of the season fell here Wednesday afternoon.

FAMILY WHITE-CAPPED

Because They Helped a Boycotted Neighbor Pick Cotton.

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 6.—News was received here Wednesday, giving an account of the work of white-caps near Evergreen, Sunday night. John Shiley, a farmer, with his wife and three children, was taken out and severely whipped by eight masked men. Mrs. Shiley's right arm was broken, as was her husband's left shoulder blade. A son, aged 14, was so badly beaten that he is not expected to recover. The only excuse that can be offered for the outrageous treatment of these people is the fact he loaned aid to one of his neighbors who was boycotted because he had voted the democratic ticket for governor and was unable to procure hands to pick his cotton. The Shiley family, having finished their own cotton picking, undertook the job for the neighbor, and were warned to desist. Not heeding the warning, they were visited by the white-cap band. The white-caps are known, and it is said will be summarily dealt with.

NO MILITARY DISPLAY.

The Illinois National Guard Will No March at the Dedication.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—The Illinois national guard will not participate in the parade incidental to the dedication of the World's fair buildings. Although the president of the United States will be the guest of Chicago not a single man of her citizen soldiery will turn out to do him honor. The trouble arises over the refusal of the state authorities and the World's fair directors to defray the transportation expenses of the troops. They insist that the men shall foot the bill which would amount to about $10,000. The Chicago regiments refuse to turn out unless the other regiments of the state march with them. They believe that Illinois should either have the largest military showing or none at all, and at a meeting of national guard officers it was decided to have none at all.

ONLY ADMINISTRATOR.

Carnegie Declares, Is He of the Wealth Entrusted to Him.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Carnegie Wednesday laid the corner stone of the Memorial library in Ayer which was presented to the town by Andrew Carnegie. The latter was present also and there was a general holiday. The mayor conferred the freedom of the city on Mr. Carnegie. Part of the latter's reply was as follows:

"I feel more strongly bound than ever to devote the remaining years of my life to aims ending in less to self and more to others, using my surplus wealth and spare time in the manner most likely to produce the greatest good to the masses of the people. From the masses comes the wealth which is entrusted to the owner only as administrator."

Meteor Ownership Settled.

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 6.—The supreme court of Iowa has affirmed the Winnebago meteor case. In May, 1890, an aerolite, weighing sixty pounds, fell on the farm of John Goddard. Peter Hoagland dug it up and sold it to H. V. Winchel as his own for $105. Goddard sued, claiming that as the stone fell on his land it became his. The district court decided in Goddard's favor, holding that the meteor became part of the soil. The defense was that it was movable and, being unclaimed by the landowner, belonged to the finder.

Piping Hot Water.

BOISE, Idaho, Oct. 6.—Boise is to be heated by hot water, and in that respect will be the most remarkable city in the world. About a mile from the city great volumes of boiling water gush out of several deep artesian wells. The water possesses no medicinal value, and heretofore has been used only for bathing. Now a six-inch pipe will be laid from the springs into the town and the hot water will be placed in residences and houses. The cost, it is estimated, will be 50 per cent less than with coal.

Epidemic of Suicide in Chile.

PANAMA, Oct. 6.—Chilian advices say that vandalism, influenza, highway robbery and railway disasters have now suicide as a powerful ally in their work of destruction in Chile. Scarcely a day passes that cases of self-murder are not reported either at the capital or at Valparaiso, while reports are constantly reaching the city from the interior of similar occurrences.

A Boy Slays His Brother-in-Law.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Peter Sheridan, eighteen years old, fired five bullets into the body of his brother-in-law, Peter Hannigan, who had been abusing his wife. The tragedy occurred at Hannigan's house, 173 Austin avenue. Hannigan is dead and Sheridan surrendered himself to the police.

Senator Mills on Deck Again.

CORRIGAN, Tex., Oct. 6.—Senator Mills has so far recovered as to be able to travel, and left Wednesday night for St. Louis. Thence he goes to Indiana, Pennsylvania and Ohio. If able he will take part in the campaign in those states.

Lotta's Life in Danger.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—There is little probability that Lotta, the actress, will ever entirely recover. Inflammation, as the result of the recent unsuccessful operation performed upon her for abnormal growth upon the spine, may set in. She is at a Fifth avenue sanitarium.

Robbed His Room Mate.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 6.—Dr. B. B. Enoch, formerly a druggist and a man of good standing in Jackson county, was arrested there Wednesday for robbing his room mate, Charles Rogers, of $50.

Renan Not Excommunicated.

PARIS, Oct. 6.—On the authority of Abbe Pelzer, vicar-general of Paris, Renan was not excommunicated, although the "Index Episcopalis" condemned his "Vie de Jesus."

An Election Killing.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 6.—Isiah Horton, colored, was shot and killed by Dan Bowles at the Poor-house precinct, six miles from this city, Wednesday.

DALTON GANG.

"Bob," Their Leader, Two of His Brothers,

And Several of their Pals Shot Down by a Posse.

A Daring Attempt of the Gang to Loot in Daylight Two Banks in Coffeyville, Kan.—Four of the Attacking Party Lose Their Lives.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Oct. 6.—The Dalton gang has been exterminated—wiped off the face of the earth. Caught like rats in a trap, they were Wednesday shot down, but not until four citizens of this place yielded up their lives in the work of extermination. Six of the gang rode into town Wednesday morning and robbed the two banks of this place.

Their raid had become known to the officers of the law, and when the bandits attempted to escape they were attacked by the marshal's posse. In the battle which ensued four of the desperadoes were killed outright and one was so badly wounded that he has since died. The other escaped, but is being hotly pursued. Of the attacking party four were killed, one was fatally wounded and two were seriously wounded. The dead are:

Bob Dalton, desperado; shot through the head.

Grant Dalton, desperado; shot through the heart.

Emmet Dalton, desperado; shot through the left side.

Joseph Evans, desperado; shot through the head.

John Moore—"Texas Jack"—desperado; shot through the head.

T. C. Connelly, city marshal; shot through the body.

L. M. Baldwin, bank clerk; shot through the head.

G. W. Cubine, merchant; shot through the head.

C. J. Brown, shoe-maker; shot through the body.

Thos. G. Ayres, cashier First national bank, was shot through the groin and can not live.

T. A. Reynolds, of the attacking party, has a wound in the right breast, but it is not considered necessarily dangerous.

Luis Detz, another of the attacking party, was shot in the right side. His wound is a serious one, but is not fatal.

It had been rumored a month ago that the Dalton gang was contemplating an immediate raid upon the banks of the city. Arrangements were made to give them a warm reception, and for over a week a patrol was maintained night and day to give warning of the gang's approach. The raid did not take place, and then came the report from Deming, N. M., that United States officers had had a battle with the band in that territory and that three of the bandits had been killed. This report was believed here to have been circulated by the Daltons themselves, the intention being to divert attention from their real intentions and to lull the people of the town into a sense of security. The people, however, were not easily deceived, and when the report of the disaster to the gang in New Mexico was denied, vigilance was renewed. Still the expected raid was not made.

The Dalton boys were born and bred in this vicinity, and were well known to nearly every man, woman and child in town. In their progress through the town they had been recognized. City Marshal Connelly was quickly notified of their arrival, and almost before the bandits had entered the bank he was collecting a posse to capture them if possible, to kill them if necessary.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—For Ohio, Western Pennsylvania, Indiana and Illinois—Generally fair; slowly rising temperature, preceded by frosts Thursday morning; variable winds, shifting to south and west.

For Tennessee—Fair; east winds.

For Kentucky—Fair; east winds, shifting to southerly; warmer by Friday morning.

For West Virginia—Fair; north winds, shifting to southerly; slightly warmer.

The Missing Pinkerton Rifles.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Oct. 6.—The detectives in the employ of the Carnegie Steel Co., have received trustworthy information as to the whereabouts of fifty of the missing Pinkerton rifles. A remark from a four-year-old boy gave the clue upon which the detectives went to work, and they have received sufficient corroborative information to convince them that they are at length upon the right track.

Covered With Snow.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Oct. 6.—The peaks of the Catskills were covered with snow Wednesday morning. Early snow fell to the depth of two inches and the ground was covered from Delhi to Big Indian, covering a section of many miles.

Gov. Buchanan Protested by Troops.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 6.—Gov. John P. Buchanan spoke here Wednesday night to several hundred persons. A body guard of state troops protected him from possible assault.
